

Low pressure over Missouri this evening will advance to Michigan overnight and Ontario on Monday. It will strengthen significantly as it heads northeast, and will swing a cold front through the Ohio Valley Monday morning. Ahead of the low, southerly winds will become strong on Monday, gusting into the 40-45 mph range. Loose outdoor objects, such as empty garbage cans, should be brought inside this evening if possible.

